

SMS Terms and Conditions

This page provides the terms and conditions regarding SMS messaging communications from the Applied Language Institute (ALI) at UMKC.

The Applied Language Institute sends text messages using a SMS messaging service to communication with students about our English language programs and application processes. Subscribing to this service is not required to apply for or gain admission to any English language program. This service provides you with information via text messaging the Applied Language Institute deems helpful and pertinent to our English language programs.

Opt-in

Prospective students may opt-in to receiving text messages (i.e. SMS messages) by completing an information request form found on the ALI's Community English Program webpage.

Messaging Costs

Standard message and data rates from your wireless carrier may apply. When you opt-in to receive SMS messages, you are responsible for any carrier fees such as data plan charges, text messaging charges, tolls, out-of-area roaming, and other charges. Messaging frequency per month varies based on ALI staff scheduling and availability. Check with your mobile operator for details on receiving text messages (SMS).

Carriers

Note that SMS communications from the ALI may not be available through all mobile carriers.

STOP/Opt-out Information

If you wish to opt-out of text messages, text STOP to stop receiving text messages from the ALI. Please note that opting out will remove you from all future text communications with the ALI, including events/classes you may register for in the future or application and program updates unless you were to re-subscribe to such services.

Privacy Policy

Your use of the SMS messaging service is governed by UMKC's Privacy Policy.

The ALI will not ask you for, nor should you provide, personally identifiable information, passwords, or any other confidential or sensitive information in SMS messages. Except as permitted by the university's privacy policy, the ALI does not share your information with third parties.

All mobile information you share with the ALI will remain confidential and will only be used by the ALI's staff to assist you in a more efficient manner regarding our English language programs.
